“

The impact you’ve had on our university and the community here is endless. Today we are putting bulbs in the ground in this beautiful garden as just another small gesture of gratitude and thanks for all that you’ve done. We love you! You’ve made a huge impact on my life as the leader of this institution and I can’t thank you enough. Go Vols!”

—DONDE PLOWMAN, CHANCELLOR

“

It seems so appropriate that we are honoring you today in the UT Gardens because to me gardens are all about hope and renewal and in the three decades that I’ve been with UT, ya’ll have been such a consistent force of positivity and hope and renewal for the university. We’ve seen so many changes over the years but your commitment and support have been unwavering. The two of you truly have the hearts of Volunteers. Thank you for all you do for the university, for UT Gardens, and for us the employees who look to you for inspiration.”

—KEITH CARVER, SENIOR VICE CHANCELLOR/ SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, UT INSTITUTE OF AGRICULTURE

“

I truly would not be at the University of Tennessee without you. To say I am grateful is an understatement. The experiences I’ve had in college, the people I’ve met, the ways I’ve been challenged as a leader would not have been possible without your generosity. I am so grateful for the two of you and the legacy you have built and your impact on our university.”
