VOLUNTEER SERVICE AWARD

is hereby presented to

Gina Galluppi

Gina Galluppi, Senior Executive Director of Stewardship and Donor Relations at University of Southern California, we honor you as the 2018 recipient of the Association of Donor Relations Professionals Volunteer Service Award.

“What is the essence of life? To serve others and to do good.” – Aristotle

Gina, you are one of ADRP’s longest-standing volunteers, having served ADRP for more than 10 years. Few have the breadth of engagement you have demonstrated, including leadership on the Board from 2007 to 2009; chair of the 2012 International Conference in Chicago; editor of The Hub from 2014 to 2018; host of the 2018 Southern California Regional; and mentor, sharing your wisdom as a conference presentation coach as well as through numerous presentations, webinars, and articles.

You have given so much of yourself to the ADRP mission. As the chair of ADRP’s 2012 Chicago conference, you led conference committees in creating an exceptional experience for attendees, a breadth of content for professionals that spanned various career levels, and a robust marketing strategy. Your steadfastness in planning resulted in the Chicago conference becoming ADRP’s first to reach more than 400 attendees.

As Hub Editor, you instituted several new features including videos, interviews with industry leaders, and a more modern masthead. You created an additional volunteer opportunity through the Hub editorial board ensuring members have a voice and choice in the content presented.

You also found time to partner with peers to offer an ADRP regional in Southern California this year, including serving as the host institution. This half-day event attracted 70 stewardship professionals from various industries. You are helping to build a strong network of donor relations professionals throughout the state who can learn and grow together.

Your leadership does not end there. You also have served as mentor, coach, and connector for many ADRP members in the formative stages of their careers, developing them into outstanding professionals in the field. You consistently model best practices, and peers describe you as a pioneer and leader in the pursuit of transparency and donor trust-building. I am proud to call you not only a peer and colleague, but also a friend.

In recognition of your extraordinary ADRP volunteer experiences, we are proud to present you with the 2018 Association of Donor Relations Professionals Volunteer Service Award. Congratulations!

With sincere gratitude,

Eliza McNulty, President
