

The Association of Donor Relations Professionals
Volunteer Service Award

is hereby presented to Carlita Pitts

Carlita Pitts, Assistant Director of Reunion Giving and Donor Relations at the Ohio State University Moritz College of Law, we honor you as the 2009 recipient of the Association of Donor Relations Professionals Volunteer Service Award.

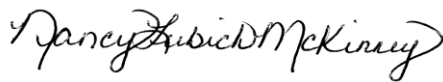

Since joining ADRP in 2008, you have played a substantial role in developing the association's marketing and volunteer programs. Because of your efforts, we have ventured boldly into the virtual world of social networking.

To expand and enhance ADRP's reach to current and potential members, you advocated for establishing our social networking presence on LinkedIn and Facebook, serving as moderator for both groups. Your keen attention to detail has allowed them to grow and flourish. You keep the posted information current and fresh—sharing information with these constituencies nearly simultaneously as it is released via the ADRP web site and News Flashes. This success has enhanced communication among our members and has opened up a whole new recruiting strategy for prospective members.

As Volunteer Placement Coordinator, you work to match members who express an interest in taking a more active role within ADRP with appropriate and meaningful volunteer opportunities, ranging from committee service to local, grass-roots initiatives. In this key leadership position with ADRP, you are helping the organization achieve something it has long sought—the broader-based involvement of our membership on national and local levels.

In recognition of your exemplary record of service, we are proud to present you with the 2009 Association of Donor Relations Professionals Volunteer Service Award. Congratulations!

With sincere gratitude,

Nancy McKinney, President
